Information about the use of cookies in Kuehn and Partners BG website

What type of cookies do Kuehn and Partners BG website use?

Kuehn and Partners BG uses two main types of cookies in its website:

- Session cookies

  These are temporary cookies, which are active only upon login to the website (after the visitor closes his/her browser, the session cookie disappears). Session cookies enable the website to keep track of the steps, made by the visitor on the previous page, so as to save him/her the re-entering of the information.

- Persistent cookies

  Persistent cookies are stored on your computer after you visit the website. We use persistent cookies in order to show you the dialog box, which appears upon your initial login to the website and requires your consent for using cookies. These cookies are automatically deleted after 90 days.

In terms of functionality, cookies are divided into:

- Strictly necessary cookies

  These cookies enable the website's operation and mediate basic functions, such as navigating pages and accessing the secured parts of the website. The seamless functioning of the website would not be possible without them.

- Functional cookies

  These cookies allow the website to provide advanced functionality and personalization by remembering your choices (e.g. username or identification, selection of the language or region, in which you are located). They may also be used to provide services you have requested, such as watching a video. The information, collected by these cookies, may be anonymized and they cannot track your activity while browsing other websites. If you do not enable these cookies, some or all of the services may not function properly.

- Statistical cookies

These cookies are used to track the pages you visit on this website. The information that we store is being summarized and does not contain any personal data. It is used for statistical and analytical purposes that allow us to offer better services and products to our audience.

- Advertising cookies

  These cookies contain information about your user behavior on our website and can be used to personalize advertising campaigns through the platforms of external websites and services. Thus you see information, relevant to you. They do not store personal data and the information is anonymized.

Blocking and deleting cookies

If you want to restrict cookies or block them on this website, you can do so by changing your browser settings. You can block all cookies, accept only part of them, or delete all cookies when exiting the browser. More information is available in your browser's help menu.
